The Spring Convocation

The Spring Convocation for the Conferral of Degrees will take place at the Northern Alberta Jubilee Auditorium from 28 to 31 May.

The ceremonies surrounding convocation—even the term itself (Lat.: “convocatio”—a calling together, a summoned assembly)—have their roots embedded deep within the fabric of early mediaeval Europe. The most visible evidence of this continued tradition is, of course, the academic dress donned for convocation by graduands and teachers alike.

Originally closely directed by an ecclesiastical Chancellor, a university was a cathedral school. The Chancellor of the cathedral, however, was able to recognize the establishment of “studia generalia”—the oldest name for universities. These “studia generalia” received their licences to teach from the Pope, the Emperor, or the King. In 1158, Frederick I Barbarossa granted privileges and immunities to the “clerici,” students and teachers, who attended these institutions. The privileges were gradually enhanced to the extent that “clerici” were made immune from unjust arrest, granted trial by peers, and even allowed the right of “cessatio,” the right to strike or discontinue lectures. To become a teacher at a “studium generale,” however, one first had to pass a formal examination to receive a licence to teach.

From 1292, when the oldest universities, Paris and Bologna, appealed to Nicholas IV for a bull permitting them to grant licences to teach, the function of “studia generalia” became more and more crystallized into the chief modern raison d'être of universities, namely the granting of licences to teach that were recognized not merely by the institutions which awarded them. Thus, the degree certificate displayed here is the direct descendant of a long and honorable tradition. □

Honorary Degree Recipients

Longtime Alberta educator Professor Emeritus Wilfrid Pilkington will be conferred an honorary Doctor of Laws degree by The University of Alberta next week.

Professor Pilkington was selected to receive the degree by the Honorary Degrees Committee of The University of Alberta Senate. He will receive the degree on 28 May at the 69th Convocation for the Conferral of Degrees. He will be presented by Senate member Dr. Frank Kozar.

Professor Pilkington, 70, began his teaching career in 1927 at Jack Pine Grove, a two-room school in Eldorena, Alberta. After earning a Bachelor of Arts degree at the University of Alberta in 1933, he was appointed principal of Mazeppa School in Radway, Alberta, and remained there for four years and, subsequently, was the principal of Clyde Consolidated School from 1937 to 1940.

Before joining the RCAF in 1941, Professor Pilkington was a staff member in the Edmonton Public School system. In the later 1940s, he taught English at the high school level in Edmonton and received a Bachelor of Education degree from The University of Alberta. He also holds a Master of Arts degree from the University. He studied at the University of Minnesota in 1950-51 and, upon returning to Edmonton, became principal of Riverdale Elementary/Junior High School.

Professor Pilkington joined the staff of the Faculty of Education in 1952 and taught courses in English, English Teaching Methods, and Psychology for twenty years. He was appointed Assistant Dean of Education in 1964 and Professor of Secondary Education in 1967. He later served as Associate Dean of Education responsible for student programs and records.

Professor Pilkington, who retired in 1974, was awarded an honorary membership by the Alberta Teachers' Association in 1975. The award was presented for outstanding service to education in Alberta.

Dr. Maury Van Vliet, Dean of the Faculty of Physical Education and Recreation for thirty years and President of the XI Commonwealth Games Foundation, will receive an honorary Doctor of Laws degree at Spring Convocation on 31 May. Dr. Van Vliet, Professor Emeritus of Physical Education at the University, will be presented to Convocation by Hal Spelliscy of the Hudson's Bay Company in Calgary.

Born in 1913 in Bellingham, Washington, Dr. Van Vliet was Director of Physical Education at the University of British Columbia from 1936 until 1945, when he came to The University of Alberta as the first Dean to be appointed in the field of physical education in Canada. He was also responsible for the first Doctor of Philosophy degree program in physical education in Canada.

His involvement with physical education was capped by the presidency of the Commonwealth Games Foundation but there were a number of other honors along the way.

He was awarded a Centennial Medal (Canada) in 1967, a Certificate of Meritorious Service (City of Edmonton) in 1970, and honorary Doctor of Laws degrees from the University of Western Ontario in 1973 and the University of Windsor in 1978. Dr. Van Vliet was named a member of the Edmonton Sportsmen Hall of Fame in 1973 and was recently installed as an Officer of the Order of Canada.

Dr. Van Vliet is past President of the Canadian Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation and the Alberta Recreation Association and past Chairman of the Alberta Provincial Recreation Board and the Canadian Wheelchair Sports Association.

His professional experience includes the teaching of physical education courses in fundamental skills, sports injuries, health education and recreation, and the coaching of basketball, track and field, football, rugby, and gymnastics.

Dr. Van Vliet is a graduate of the University of Oregon, having earned Bachelor of Science and Master of Science degrees at that institution. He also holds a Doctor of Education degree from the University of California at Los Angeles. He is author of Physical Education for Junior and Senior High Schools, co-author of Physical Education Activities for Secondary Schools, and editor of Physical Education in Canada.

The legal and judicial contributions of the Honorable J.V.H. Milvain will be honored next week by the award of a Doctor of Laws degree on 29 May.

The former Chief Justice of the Trial Division was born in 1904 to pioneer Alberta ranchers. He graduated from The University of Alberta in 1928 in the third graduating class of the Faculty of Law. He has enjoyed a distinguished career in law and has held office in many of its professional associations including a term in 1958 as President of the Law Society of Alberta.

The Honorable J.V.H. Milvain was appointed to the Supreme Court of Alberta in 1959. The Honourable W.A. McGillivray, Chief Justice of Alberta, who will present his predecessor to Convocation, notes that "he [Milvain] appointed himself to take the most difficult of cases in remote parts of Alberta and his judgments were respected.

He is a remarkable man to whom his country is indebted for the example he has set as Chief Justice of the Trial Division of this province."

Dr. Maury Van Vliet

Honorable J.V.H. Milvain

J.V.H. Milvain retired as Chief Justice on 14 February 1979. He is now associated with the Calgary law firm of Atkinson McMahon.

The founder and President of Wardair International Ltd. will be honored by the University of Alberta on 30 May.

Max Ward, who will be presented to Convocation by University President Dr. H.E. Gunning, has figured prominently in the aviation scene since the Second World War when he served as flying officer with the RCAF. Upon discharge from the RCAF in 1945, he joined an aviation company called Northern Flights Ltd. which operated out of Yellowknife, Northwest Territories. In 1946, Mr. Ward organized his own company, Polaris Charter Company Ltd., in the northern centre. He entered the home construction business in 1949 and left in 1952 to form Wardair Ltd. in Yellowknife.

In 1961, the company name was changed to Wardair Canada Ltd. A class 9-4 international non-scheduled charter licence was obtained as a separate office was opened in Edmonton for the purpose of serving the international market. In the ensuing years, Wardair sales offices were established in London and Honolulu as well as in Canada. The name Wardair International Ltd. was adopted in 1976.

Mr. Ward was the recipient of the Billy Mitchell Award in 1971 and was made a Companion of the Order of Icarus in 1973. He is a former recipient of the Trans-Canada McKee Trophy, considered Canada's foremost award in the field of aviation and he is a member of Canada's Aviation Hall of Fame and was made an Officer of the Order of Canada in 1975. □

The Francis G. Winspear Chair of Professional Accounting

Francis Winspear, former Professor and Dean of the Faculty of Business Administration and Commerce, returned to the University on 8 May, much to the gratification of the Faculty, the University administration, and the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Alberta. Dr. Winspear, who resides on Vancouver Island, was here to participate in the official declaration of the establishment of The Francis G. Winspear Chair of Professional Accounting.

Dr. Winspear said that a distinct shortage of trained and available chartered accountants was of concern to him. It is his express hope that the Chair "will make a contribution to the profession of which I am extremely proud and to the University of which I am equally proud."

Roger Smith, Dean of the Faculty, said the establishment of the Chair is a real milestone and that it can provide a catalyst for the University to better meet the needs of accountancy in Alberta.

The Chair will be funded on an annual basis by the Winspear Foundation and the University, with the former contributing two-thirds of the cost. An appointment to the chair has not been made but a selection committee which includes the President of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Alberta is studying the academic and professional qualifications of prospective appointees in Canada and abroad.

Basically, the Winspear Professor of Professional Accounting will be expected to engage in the same range of activities as other academic staff members. However, administrative or committee work will be excluded from the appointee's pursuits and the area of contribution to the CA profession and, in particular, to the Institute of Chartered Accountants, will receive special emphasis.

The Winspear Professor of Professional Accounting's range of duties will include the development of course materials relating to the CA profession for inclusion in one or more of the courses offered by the Department of Accounting and required for admission to The Institute of Chartered Accountants of Alberta.

In their remarks about the Chair, President Gunning and E.B. Allan, Chairman of the Finance Committee of the Board of Governors, expressed the hope that other citizens in the wider community would consider the sponsorship of similar chairs in other areas, a move which generally means that the University can afford well-qualified staff members who could otherwise not be appointed, and that the resources available for effective teaching and research at the University are expended in a significant manner.

Dr. Winspear has been a strong supporter of the University for three decades. Two examples of his largesse are the Faculty Club and the Winslow Christian Hamilton Memorial Pool which is named in honor of Dr. Winspear's late partner. □

Researcher wins International Award

Dr. J.D. Chapman of the Cross Cancer Institute and the Faculty of Medicine at The University of Alberta was recently awarded the 1979 Radiation Research Award.

The presentation took place in Tokyo on 14 May as part of the proceedings of the Sixth International Congress of Radiation Research held there from 11 to 20 May. Dr. Chapman is the eighth recipient of the award and, as such, joins a select group of illustrious scientists from Europe and North America who are world leaders in radiation research.

In presenting the award, which consists of a citation and $1,000, the Radiation Research Society honored Dr. Chapman as a scientist who, before the age of 40, has contributed new insights into the interaction of radiation with matter—in a nuclear age when, increasingly, society is encountering radiation in medicine, industry, and the environment.

Dr. Chapman's research has focussed on the basic physical and chemical mechanisms underlying the impact of radiation on living cells. Following his doctoral studies at Pennsylvania State University on the interaction of radiation with nucleic acids,

Dr. Chapman spent one post doctoral year in England investigating how the effects of radiation on living cells might be modified by the use of chemicals.

Continuing these studies at the Whitehall Nuclear Research Establishment (Atomic Energy of Canada Limited) in Manitoba, Dr. Chapman and his co-workers made breakthrough discoveries. His vigorous pursuit of the potential applications of these discoveries in the field of cancer radiotherapy led quickly to the successful demonstration of the clinical use of chemicals as radiation modifiers in the treatment of cancer. This work was done in collaboration with Dr. R.C. Urtasun of the Cross Cancer Institute in Edmonton.

In addition, while working at the University of California at Berkeley, Dr. Chapman pioneered the study of the effects of heavy ion particle radiation in cells and how these effects may also be modified by chemicals.

At present, Dr. Chapman conducts an actively expanding program of research into the basic mechanisms of the interaction of radiation with living cells and how this knowledge can be applied in cancer diagnosis and treatment.

Both Dr. Chapman and his wife were born in Saskatchewan, and he is a graduate of the University of Saskatchewan.

Dr. Chapman and his group in Radiobiology are primarily supported through the Alberta Heritage Cancer Research fund. □

Professor Receives Dental Education Award

For the first time, the Dental Education Award presented by the International College of Dentists has been awarded to a Canadian dental educator at each Canadian dental faculty. The recipients of the award have been selected by the undergraduate body in each dental faculty for their "outstanding skills in the art of dental education" and for "exemplary dedication to the welfare of dental students."

This year, at the student graduation ceremonies, Dr. P.D. Schuller, Associate Professor in the Faculty of Dentistry, was the recipient of the 1978 award for The University of Alberta. The award was presented by Dr. Louis Mandin, the Alberta Regeant for the International College of Dentists, Canadian Section.

The certificate awarded Dr. Schuller was designed by Mrs. E.

Myer Horowitz to receive Honorary Degree

Shortly after the conclusion of this University's Spring Convocation 1979, Vice-President (Academic) and President-Designate Myer Horowitz will attend McGill University's Convocation for the dual purpose of receiving an Honorary Doctor of Laws Degree and delivering the convocation address.

On 8 June, Dr. Horowitz will be conferred the degree in recognition of his involvement over the years in the education of young children and in the preparation of teachers.

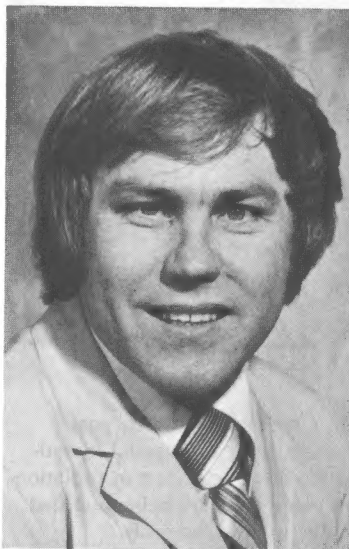

He has strong ties with McGill University, having been on staff of its Faculty of Education from 1960 to 1969. During this time, he received several significant appointments including, in 1965, that of Assistant Dean of the Faculty. Dr. Horowitz's first teaching diploma was from the McGill School for Teachers, which was then situated at Macdonald College, in 1952.

Dr. Horowitz was appointed Chairman of the University of Alberta's Department of Elementary Education in 1969 and Dean of the Faculty of Education in 1972. He became Vice-President (Academic) on 1 July 1975 and on 1 August 1979, he will become President of the University.

He has served as President of the Canadian Committee on Early Childhood, the Edmonton Chapter of the Canadian College of Teachers, the Early Childhood Education Council of the Alberta Teachers' Association, and the Education Society of Edmonton.

In addition to teacher education and early childhood education, Dr. Horowitz is deeply interested in curriculum development and implementation and the administration of schools for the severely mentally retarded. □

CUSO Presentations

The local Committee of CUSO (the Canadian University Service Overseas) is sponsoring a series of slide/talk presentations. These presentations will be made by volunteers who have returned from parts of the world where CUSO maintains a development program.

CUSO is a development agency which sends skilled people (farmers, teachers, and medical personnel) to "third world" countries to assist in training programs. When such volunteers leave, their skills remain.

The presentations will begin on 24 May with Peru. On 31 May, Zambia will be covered, while on 4, 7, 11, 14, 18, and 21 June, the talks and slide shows will cover, respectively, Malaysia, the coastal region of Papua/New Guinea, Caribbean, Nigeria, the highland region of Papua/New Guinea, and Ghana.

All presentations will take place in L-3 Humanities Centre at 8 p.m. There will be no charge for admission and everyone is welcome to attend.

For more information, please review the weekly listing in "Coming Events" under the rubric "Lectures and Seminars," and contact either Peter Drabble (telephone 436-1468) or the CUSO Office, 420 Athabasca Hall (telephone 432-3381). □

When Reporters Come Calling

Sponsored by the Office of Community Relations and the Faculty of Extension, an exciting and innovative seminar is being conducted today on campus. The seminar, "When Reporters Come Calling," has been designed for people within the University who have occasion from time to time, to be interviewed by members of the public news media.

The telephone bell jangles and suddenly there is someone from a radio station or newspaper wanting to talk to you about the value of your research—quantum mechanics or the peculiar linguistic characteristics of the pet names for Norwegian dairy cows. How do you respond? Will your tongue involuntarily move over to make room for your foot? The workshop, which will probably be repeated, attacks that problem and provides for the participants an opportunity to improve their media-interview skills. The basic "do's and do not's" of giving an interview are covered, as well as other topics; for example how to approach media representatives with a story and how to deal with "bad press."

The instruction in the seminar is not only provided by members of staff at the University, but also by well-known Edmonton media types: Bill Laing and Bob Spence of the CBC and Pete Brewster of the Edmonton Journal. The success of their instruction will soon be made evident to those of us who read newspapers and listen to the radio. □

75th Anniversary Celebrations

From July 1982 to June 1983, The University of Alberta will hold its 75th academic session. This is a Jubilee which will be celebrated throughout the year by a variety of special events and projects. The organizers of the celebrations, therefore, require your participation in planning projects or events which will portray all aspects of the life of this University past and present in a wide range of academic, cultural and artistic, and sporting endeavors.

All your ideas and suggestions are welcome and will receive full consideration, subject to the availability of funds. In fact, the success of the celebrations is dependent on you.

Please submit your ideas for the celebrations to:

Notices

GFC Appointment

A vacancy exists on the General Faculties Council for one member of the non-academic staff who is not a member of NASA. Interested persons are invited to submit their names in writing with a brief biographical note to Secretary, General Faculties Council, 3-3 University Hall. If necessary an election will be held by GFC.

Safety in the Biological Laboratory

The Bio-Safety Committee, the Occupational Health, Safety, Fire and Emergency Measures Committee, and the Radiation Control Committee are working together to present the inaugural series of Bio-Safety Seminars. The forthcoming seminar is aimed at those individuals who are involved in work with biological materials. Much of the content of the program, however, promises to be beneficial to all interested individuals.

The course will include the following topics: techniques for laboratory safety; recombinant DNA technology; chemical hazards; radiation control; MRC guidelines; laminar flow; emergency procedures in the laboratory; waste disposal, maintenance procedures; and a bio-safety workshop.

Enrolment is limited. Preference will be given to persons working with biological materials. Other interested individuals, however, should apply. For further information telephone 432-2310.

Singles on Campus Social Evening

On 1 June at 8 p.m. a social evening for singles on campus will be held at 102 Primrose Gardens, 178 Street and 86 Avenue. For information, please telephone Audrey Brooks at 487-9195 evenings.

The University of Alberta invites applications for the position of Registrar

The Registrar, with a staff of about 70, is responsible for the admissions, registration and student records of the University (full-time enrolment of about 18,000); serves on the senior academic councils of the University; is responsible for the preparation and publication of University calendars and timetables; and works with Faculties to inform prospective students about the University and its programs. The Registrar's Office is developing a computerized system of student records (in cooperation with the Office of Administrative Systems).

Inventory of On-Campus Activities
Related to Children During the International Year of the Child

The purpose of this questionnaire is (a) to record activities taking place on campus that relate to the child, (b) to identify areas particularly focusing on the child, (c) to facilitate intellectual exchange on campus and beyond.

The results will be forthcoming in the form of a report which may be circulated to facilitate further contacts.

1. List courses that you are or will be teaching during the 1979 calendar year that are concerned with children. For each course indicate the nature and extent of the focus on the child.

Course No. & Title	Content (Nature)	Time (Extent)

3. List previous and forthcoming publications in this area.

Author	Title	Where Published

4. List current and forthcoming programs and demonstrations that will be offered in your department during the International Year of the Child; e.g. University programs that bring the child to the campus; University programs that involve children in the community; open seminars or lecture series; extension courses.
